

Hi, there!

An image, a sound or an endless tale of creation, reflection, repose and surrender to the flow of life. In the fork of branches, between heaven and earth, we find a warm place to keep our hearts lit and hope to spread it across the world.

A space where all forms of creative expressions and healing practices are welcome. We wish to feature works from novices to established creative practitioners and celebrate inclusivity to its richest form. We hope to connect like-minded gentle souls and celebrate them in their true essence.

At The Rookery Corner, we are drawn to works that hint at the vastness of the human essence, that finds goodness in absolute subtraction, that convey the timelessness of a moment or encapsulates a fleeting moment - perpetual, yet vanishing in the absolute center.

We have a special affinity for practices and works that are rich in history and versatility. That being said, our heart is full of appreciation for contemporary expressions of deep feelings and narratives that ignite a hushed voice in the receiver's heart.

For inquiries, please reach out to us at rookerycorner@gmail.com.

